

TO SEEK DEATH FOR HAMILTON

TWO LITTLE GIRLS ARE KIDNAP VICTIMS

ARIZONA CHILD IS HELD FOR FIFTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS

NO COMMUNICATION IS RECEIVED FROM KIDNAPERS LITTLE ST. PAUL GIRL

(By The Associated Press)
Two little girls were held by kidnapers today as one of America's most dreaded rackets flared on two fronts—in St. Paul, Minn., where the kidnapping of a banker recently proved a world-wide sensation, and in Tucson, Ariz., where such cases are rare.

Tune Robles, six, daughter of a wealthy rancher, was seized in Tucson yesterday on the way home from school. A ransom note demanded $15,000.

Mary Carline, five, was kidnapped today in St. Paul. She was taken by a man in a large sedan. The girl was playing near her home. A man in an automobile also took the Robles child.

Meanwhile, police in Miami, Fla., broadcast an arrest request for a man and woman they listed as Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moran of San Fernando, Calif. A warrant charged with kidnapping Franklin Delano Roosevelt Goodman, 2-weeks old, April 6.

Parents of the Goodman baby, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Goodman of Whitman, Mass., told officers that the Morans took the child, ostensibly to go to St. Petersburg, to get money to enable them and the Goodmans to go to San Fernando. No trace of the baby or of the Morans has been found.

TUCSON, Ariz., April 26.—(P)—A second ransom note was delivered shortly before noon today to Bernabe Robles, grandfather of six-year-old June Robles, kidnapped yesterday, offering to reduce the abductors' demand from $15,000 to $10,000 "if you act quickly."

The delivery of the note was announced by Father Farnas, Tucson county undersheriff. He declined to divulge how delivery had been effected. It was signed only by the initials "Z."

The note follows: "We are willing to reduce ransom to $10,000. If you act quickly child will be returned safely as per instructions. Obey instructions."

FORMER PRESIDENT CUBA IS HUNTED TO FACE MURDER CHARGE

FEDERAL OFFICIALS ARE WATCHING ALL PORTS OF ENTRY FOR MACHADO

By BENNETT WOLFE

NEW YORK, April 26.—(P)—Gerardo Machado, deposed president of Cuba, who fled from the death threats of his countrymen last August, was a hunted man again today—hunted by American authorities. Cuba's request for his extradition on murder charges, a general police alarm was sent out after United States marshals failed to find Machado at his New York apartment. They were told by his secretary, Julio Fernandez, that the former Cuban president had left Sunday without saying where he was going.

Federal port authorities and border officials were asked to watch for Machado.

The criminal charges against him are based on wholesale shootings which occurred a few days before his flight from the troubled island.

A warrant for his arrest was issued yesterday afternoon by United States Commissioner Garrett W. Cotten. It was asked by a representative of the Cuban consulate, accompanied by Robert E. Manley, acting as counsel to the Cuban government.

At Havana, Cuban officials explained they had asked Machado's provisional arrest pending transmission of an extradition petition to the state department at Washington.

The Cuban state department indicated its intention to seek extradition also of Machado's former chief of staff, General Alberto Herrera, mainstay of the iron-

Sheriff Killed In Auto-Truck Crash Thursday

TERRELL, April 26.—(P)—Ira Burnett, about 45, sheriff of Van Zandt county, was instantly killed early today when the car in which he was driving collided with an oil truck on the highway nine miles east of Terrell.

Both cars were demolished. The truck caught fire and all combustible parts were consumed. The driver of the oil truck was said to have been W. D. Ashmore of Dallas.

Burnett was survived by his widow and several children. The body was removed to Canton, his home. He was serving his first term as sheriff, but had served many terms as deputy.

UNITED STATES IS TAKING DIRECT HAND IN FAR EAST MATTER

CHINA MAY APPEAL SIGNATURES OF NINE-POWER TREATY AGAINST JAPS

(By The Associated Press.)

Developments in the Far East situation today were: U. S. Ambassador Joseph C. Grew conferred with Foreign Minister Hirota in Tokyo under instructions from Washington.

Indications in Geneva were that China may appeal to signatories of the nine-power treaty against Japan's Asiatic policy.

Some Washington observers linked President Roosevelt's full navy declaration with the developments between Japan and China.

In Nanking, authorities denied a report that China would negotiate a $100,000,000 loan with the United States.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt, former governor general of the Philippines, asserted there was danger to the island's economic independence in Japan's policy. He said the United States has never realized the significance of Philippine independence.

First, however, it was indicated today, the Chinese are expected to attempt through diplomatic exchanges to learn whether such an appeal would receive general support.

The indications are that Chinese leaders fear an appeal would only result in another "diplomatic triumph" for the Tokyo government.

Chi T'ai-fu, the Chinese minister to Switzerland, asserted that

Posters Promise Expose of Plan Murder Hitler

BERLIN, April 26.—(P)—Exposure of a "Jewish plan to murder Adolf Hitler" was promised today in sensational posters, aflame with red ink, which were distributed throughout the Reich.

The posters advertised the May Day issue of "The Stormer," published by Julius Streicher, Nazi chief editor for Franconia, who only yesterday was named "political commissioner" of the Bavarian state government.

The advertisements carry a reproduction of the masthead of "The Stormer," which boasts that it is the "greatest anti-semitic newspaper in the world."

The May Day issue, it is promised will "cause a sensation in the whole world." The words "secret revolt" in big black type are followed by two heavily underscored lines.

"Jewish murder plot against non-Jewish humanity exposed."

Promises of revelations of Jewish ritual murders and Jewish secret laws are made in smaller type followed by another red line reading "Jewish plan to murder Adolf Hitler."

RAILROAD LABOR WINS RESTORATION ALL CUTS IN YEAR

WASHINGTON, Apr. 26.—(P)—Railway labor and management agreed today to a restoration of the full pay of the workers on April 1, 1935.

In compromise agreement after a long series of conferences between the railway labor executives association and the conference committee of managers it was agreed that the ten per cent deduction from checks of the workers which has been made for the last two years should be gradually restored during the next year.

The employees will receive a restoration of 21-2 per cent on July 1 of this year; 21-2 per cent on January 1, 1935, and the remainder on April 1, 1935.

The agreement came after negotiations started March 15 apparently failed and Joseph B. Eastham, federal coordinator of transportation had announced that his efforts at mediating the situation had failed. Eastham withdrew last Saturday and on Monday the managers and labor got together unexpectedly and worked out the compromise.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—(P)—Railroad labor and the managers today agreed on a restoration of two and one-half per cent of the wage deduction which has been in effect two years.

An additional five per cent will be returned January 1 and another two and one-half per cent April 1, 1935.

The wages of railway labor was

BRIGHT SLANT IS GIVEN CONGRESS BY NEW DEVELOPMENTS

ROOSEVELT AND HULL CONFERENCE ON JAPAN; CHAMBERS HANDLE ROUTINE

WASHINGTON, April 26.—(P)—Tidings of harmony at last between the Japanese situation and increased foreign trade provided a bright slant to developments today in Washington that also included widely-assorted controversies.

Of foremost interest was a talk on the Japanese situation between President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull at luncheon. Their conclusions, if any, remained to be divulged. The only official word was that the country has communicated officially with no nation about Japan's attitude toward China.

Before going to the white house the secretary of state was the center of a contrasting scene at the Capitol. Urging a committee to prove the reciprocal tariff bill, he was questioned by republicans about what specific tariffs would be affected and said he doesn't want to answer a chicken before they are hatched and out walking around.

Democrats contended he was subjected to "partisan political heckling."

On a 2 to 2 party vote at the time, the house committee that went into anti-labor trust allegations by Dr. William A. Wirt de-

MUNICIPAL GAS COMPANY TRIES FORCE DENTON ADOPT SCHEDULE RATES PROPOSED IN CORSICANA

AUSTIN, April 26.—(P)—Gas distributing companies operating in Denton and Waco today petitioned the Texas Railroad commission for authority to put increased rates into effect immediately.

The Municipal Gas Company of Denton asked permission to charge $1.75 for the first 1,000 cubic feet of gas, the rate to be graduated down to 45 cents for consumption over 25,000 cubic feet. A fifty-cent charge would be eliminated. The minimum monthly bill would be $1.75.

The Texas Cities Gas company at Waco would charge $1.50 for the first 1,000 cubic feet, with a maximum of fifty cents per 1,000 on consumption in excess of 50,000 cubic feet. The minimum monthly bill would be $1.50.

The proposed rates were denied by governing boards of the respective cities and the application to the railroad commission is in the nature of an appeal.

Both petitions asserted the schedules would lower winter bills and would slightly increase summer bills.

The petition of the Waco company stated the company's loss during 1933 was 2.31 per cent on an appraisal value of $1,700,000 while the Denton concern allowed a return of less than one-half of the appraisal value of $305,900.

The schedule of rates denied by the Denton City officials is identical with the proposal submitted to the Corsicana City commission at its first April meeting. The proposal was effectively disposed of in Corsicana when a motion to table prevailed unanimously.

PROGRAM OUTLINED FOR METHODISTS AT OPENING SESSIONS

NEW BISHOPS URGED AND MEANS RETIRING OFFICERS FOR INEFFICIENCY

JACKSON, Miss., Apr. 26.—(P)—A carefully prepared program based on progressiveness and hopefulness was outlined to delegates of the 22nd general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South at the opening session here today by the denomination's College of Bishops.

Coming as the initial major item of business, the Episcopal address, delivered by Bishop John M. Moore, Dallas, Texas, embraced the composite thoughts of the bishops. It urged "new life, new vision and new adventure," as remedies for present-day strife, and warned against defeatism.

Anticipating "the greatest advance in our history" during the next four years, the bishops recommended that Methodists thought and plans should embrace a comprehensive financial system, a worthy missionary endeavor, an adequate educational program, a consistent and persistent evangelistic movement and an intelligent promotion of the meaning, spirit and purpose and value of Methodism.

New Bishops Urged. Outstanding among the bishops' numerous recommendations was an urgent proposal to strengthen the Episcopal body by filling the posts of two bishops claimed by death during the past quadrennium, and of three others who will be retiring during the current conference by reason of the new automatic age limit.

BUXAR, India, April 26.—(P)—A rock smashed the windows of a car in which Mahatma Gandhi was riding today, but he escaped uninjured from a clash with persons opposing his campaign to assist India's untouchables.

It was the first time the Mahatma ever had been made the object of a physical attack.

Three national congress volunteers accompanying Gandhi were injured in the attack. Gandhi himself was released from the prison where he had been held less than a month.

The Mahatma had been sentenced to one year's imprisonment for initiating a new civil disobedience campaign against the government.

Bandit Foiled By Prayer When Preacher Held

AMARILLO, April 26.—(P)—The Rev. B. R. Opper, missionary of the Ceylon and India General Mission, was late for services in Amarillo last night, having been detained by a bandit in Colorado.

Prayer saved his life, the minister said.

"Just out of Pueblo I picked up a hitch-hiker," Rev. Mr. Opper said. "After we had gone about 10 miles, he drew a gun and commanded me to drive up a side road. When we came to a gate he got out and commanded me to follow. But I refused."

"He told me if I wasn't out of the car by the time he counted ten he would kill me. Believing in prayer, I began to pray."

Before he counted to ten he stopped and said, "I can't kill you. He offered to throw away his gun if I would not report him to officers."

"I let him out at Walsenburg."

NEW REVENUE BILL READY FOR FINAL CONGRESS ACTION

REPORT IS SURPRISING VICTORY FOR SENATE HIGH-TAX BLOC

By HAROLD OLIVER

WASHINGTON, April 26.—(P)—A $477,000,000 new revenue bill, representing a surprising conference victory for the senate high-tax bloc, is on its way today toward final congressional enactment.

Senate-house conferees on the bulging tax measure came to agreement last night after two days of nerve-racking work.

Their report accepted virtually all the senate increases in estate and gift taxes, the capital stock and excess profits taxes, and liberal compromises over income tax publicity and consolidated returns.

The conference agreement was complete except for the senate amendment adding 10 per cent to all individual income tax returns next year.

The house will take a separate vote on this. That chamber also will be the first to act on the conference report.

House Action First. House democratic leaders do not look for floor consideration before Monday. Should the house reject the 10 per cent recovery tax proposed by Senator Couzens (R-Mich) and accept the report, only senate approval of the measure would be required to send the measure to the White House.

It was generally believed the senate would not insist on the 10 per cent Couzens proposal if the house disapproved it.

Agreement on the bill cleared the way for early action on other major measures—the reciprocal tariff proposal which the house has already passed.

The senate finance committee will begin public hearings on this controversial administration proposal tomorrow with three cabinet officers—Secretaries Hull, Wallace and Roper—leading off for the proponents. The opposition will be heard Monday.

Senate and bill sponsors were highly jubilant over their numerical victory.

Early Trial Be Sought For Texas Desperado Bank Robbery Charge

DALLAS, April 26.—(P)—Clanging jail doors slammed shut here today on Raymond Hamilton, abruptly ending the dapper outlaw's futile efforts to make crime pay and confronting him with a possible death penalty in his impending trial for looting the Grand Prairie State bank of more than $1,500 on March 19.

The robbery with firearms charge against him for that hold-up carries a maximum penalty of death in the event of conviction and state authorities say they will seek to have a capital sentence imposed at the trial of the 20-year-old Dallas gunman, whose activities with the Clyde Barrow band of desperados made him one of the most-wanted fugitives of the nation. District Attorney Robert Hurt said today there would be at least a ten-day interval before Hamilton's trial as he wanted to work up a "sure fire" case. Originally it had been planned to start Hamilton's trial Monday.

When two deputy sheriffs, and another man blocked his road late yesterday at Howe, seven miles south of Sherman, and ordered his surrender for his latest offense against society, Hamilton and his accomplice in the hold-up two hours before the First National Bank of Lewisville gave up without a sign of resistance.

Prisoner Is Talkative. Quite talkative and taking his downfall philosophically, Hamilton explained that he and the "Kid" who got into trouble by accepting his invitation to "make some easy money"—T. R. Brooks—were armed only with pistols, so they "chose" not to try to "shoot their way" out of the trap. If they had had a machine gun, Hamilton intimated, he might have tried to get out by shooting the sheriff. The officers were armed only with pistols and Hamilton couldn't see any advantage on meeting them on even terms.

For many months the names of Raymond Hamilton, Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker, the woman who has been Barrow's companion in crime in many a brush with the law, have been on the lips of officers in the country as the most troublesome gang to work in this section in years. A split up at Terre Haute, Ind., recently resulted in Hamilton going his own way, while Barrow and the woman are continuing their future existence somewhere else—officers don't know where.

Banks Robbed In States Arkansas, Oklahoma Today

DUMAS, Ark., April 26.—(P)—Three young men robbed the Merchants and Farmers bank here of sum reported at less than $1,000. They hurriedly in a small automobile (Ford V-8) when a Baptist minister gave the alarm, and wounded an officer in shooting their way through a blockade.

In a brush with the night marshal and a citizen at Gould, the robbers shot and wounded the marshal, A. L. Butcher, about 30. A bullet struck him in the shoulder but the wound was said to be not serious.

QUAPAW, Okla., April 26.—(P)—A youth whose victims said he behaved very nicely, for a robber, took an undetermined sum of money from two women employees in the bank at Quapaw today.

LAW SLAMMED SHUT STABLE DOOR BUT HORSE—DILLINGER HAD ALREADY MADE GETAWAY

CHICAGO, April 26.—(P)—The law, with 5,000 eager arms, slammed shut the stable door today, but the horse John Dillinger—apparently—was gone.

A great circle of men blocking highways and stopping all suspicious appearing persons, was swung for hundreds of miles around Mercer, Wis., to prevent the escape of the gunman; yet even as the circle tightened, there came reports that the desperado had slipped through.

Federal men, burning under such criticism as seldom is made of law-enforcers, were massing somewhere in the vicinity of St. Paul, Minn., believing Dillinger to be in that neighborhood and that a fight to the finish with him was imminent.

From other sections of the country, however, as far south as Virginia, came reports that Dillinger had been seen. Most of the reports were disproved. One or two, however, remained question marks.

Residents of Mercer, Wis., charged the federal agents with bungling the attempt to capture Dillinger at the little Bohemia resort near that town Sunday night. Their demands that Melvin H. Purvis, head of the Chicago office of the bureau of investigation, resign his post, were not replying.

Th. Mercer, citizens charged that the federal handling of the case had been "stupid and reckless." Two men—one of them a federal agent—were killed and three others wounded in the ill-starred effort to bag Dillinger Sunday night.

Another denunciation of the federal men came from Commissioner Oscar G. Oliver of the Michigan department of public safety. He charged at Lansing that agents had failed to cooperate with the Michigan state police, and that their failure probably was responsible for the criminal's escape when he passed through Michigan last week. He accused them of refusing to permit Sergeant Fred Kume of the state police to attend a Dillinger conference called to map out details.

FLOYD HAMILTON IS CHARGED WITH AID PRISON BREAK

CROCKETT GRAND JURY INDICTS THE BROTHER OF NOTORIOUS OUTLAW

CROCKETT, April 24.—(P)—Floyd Hamilton was charged here today with complicity in the murder of an Eastham prison farm guard and aiding a prisoner to escape, in connection with the liberation from the prison farm on January 16, of his brother, the outlaw Raymond Hamilton.

Sheriff R. A. Schmid of Dallas was informed that a man had made a complete confession to Crockett officers detailing how Clyde Barrow, Bonnie Parker and himself had engineered the Eastham prison farm break, in which Raymond Hamilton and four other convicts were liberated.

Sheriff Schmid said he was advised that Floyd Hamilton, in custody at Dallas, had been named in the statement as the man who smuggled two pistols into the prison farm.

Aided In Escape.

Major Crowson, one of the prison guards wounded in the machine gun fire laid down by Barrow and his aides, died a few days after the prison break. Floyd Hamilton was charged as an accomplice in connection with the slaying of the guard.

The man who made the statement revealing how the prison farm delivery was carried out was arrested in South Dallas a month ago. He reportedly is an ex-convict who was released from Eastham prison farm Jan. 10, four days before the Hamilton break. The man had served two years for burglary.

Floyd Hamilton cannot be tried here on the charges before district court convenes on August 13, unless a special court session should be called.

It was reported that the man who made the statement told of plotting the prison delivery with Raymond Hamilton before his release. After being freed, the man contacted Floyd Hamilton and Barrow, he said. Then, according to the statement, Floyd Hamilton smuggled two pistols to Raymond Hamilton two days before the break.

Sheriff Schmid refused to make the ten-page written confession public in detail but verbally disclosed some of its principal statements. He likewise declined to say where the man who purportedly made the confession was detained. Crockett officers said they did not know the man's whereabouts either.

Break Carried Out.

The prison delivery was carried out by three guards who were taking a squad of convicts out to work. Barrow and his confederates, hidden at the side of the road, raised up and turned loose a barrage of machine gun fire. Hamilton and another convict, Joe Palmer, raced to spots nearby where they had concealed the two pistols, then they entered an automobile with the Barrow gang and fled.

Henry Methyn, another convict who got away at that time is believed to still be with Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker. He presumably got away in the barrow car.

Two other convicts, who took advantage of the occasion to flee on foot, J. B. French and Hilton Bybee, were later recaptured. Methyn, Raymond Hamilton and Palmer are still at large.

Floyd Hamilton was taken to Dallas from Austin yesterday after District Judge J. D. Moore of Austin had refused to allow his bond. He had been indicted at Dallas for alleged participation in the robbery on March 19 of the Grand Prairie State Bank, in which $1,543 was taken. Raymond Hamilton and John Eadsen, a Dallas truck driver, also were alleged to have had a hand in the bank robbery.

Floyd Hamilton's trial in the bank robbery case was set to open next Monday in district court at Dallas. Hamilton denies the bank robbery charge.

District Attorney Ben Greenwood and Sheriff Schmid of Dallas county met last Wednesday at Corsicana, Sheriff Schmid bringing with him Floyd Hamilton, who officers had been detaining for two weeks. Hamilton was held incommunicado in unnamed jails.

To the People of Precinct No. 3.

In making my announcement for commissioner of precinct No. 3, I don't feel that I have to apologize to you for mistakes made in the past, and I promise to do better next time.

But if elected, I promise to keep your roads dragged with the help of the farmers in each community (with pay of course). As you know during the four years I was your commissioner before I widened nearly every road in the precinct and left them well graded. If elected, I further promise to use the road equipment to put a hard surface on every road in precinct 3 as fast as it can be done to show you the advantage of hard surface. I sight you to the terrible mud-dirt roads that were in front of Mrs. Rich Lankford's place which we hauled rock to and it has never been bad since.

I also put a hard surface on the Charlie Brown bottom across the Pinok which is now passable all times. We have plenty of good material both at Dawson and Pisgah Ridge and it should be put out on the roads.

Now, good people of precinct 3, you know my ability to build and maintain your roads, and if you see fit to do so, I will appreciate your vote in the coming election and promise, if elected, to use my knowledge and experience in your behalf to the very best of my ability.

Yours very truly,
D. D. SAWYER.

Report Stroube Flies Baltimore Buy Noted Horse

W. C. Stroube, local oil operator and sportsman, is reported to have left by plane Tuesday for Baltimore where he is to negotiate for the purchase of Blessed Event, well known turf performer. Stroube owns Clarify and Croon bang-tails which won several races during the spring meet at Arlington Downs and entries in the Texas State Fair races which get under way Saturday.

Saturday has been designated Corsicana day and both of Stroube's racers have been entered in feature races.

Gossip, which could not be verified Tuesday afternoon, has it that W. C. Stroube, H. R. Stroube, Jim Collins and R. L. Wheelock, local oil men, plan the establishment of a race horse breeding farm on the R. L. Wheelock farm several miles east of Corsicana. The four oil men were absent from their offices Tuesday. The Wheelock farm would make an ideal place for such an establishment.

Corsicana was one of the centers for race-horse breeding farms in the yesteryears during the heyday of racing, with at least a half dozen such farms. Several race tracks were located in this vicinity.

Friends Gathered In Chatfield Home To Do Good Deed

A number of relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mrs. J. W. Davidson in Chatfield Friday, April 20, to quilt for the quilt as she had the misfortune to fall and break her arm in two places, while attempting to hang her quilt in the frames several weeks ago. Each guest brought a well filled sack of good things to eat and at noon the table groaned beneath the abundant supply of tasty food that was enjoyed in picnic style.

After lunch several busied themselves quilting, some cleared away the dishes while others busied themselves gathering gifts from the cars and arranging them in a box to be presented Mrs. Davidson as a surprise shower.

When all was in readiness there was a knock at the door, and some one called Mrs. Davidson to come sign for a registered package that the postman had brought.

On going to the door Mrs. McMullan presented her the box which was filled with many lovely and useful gifts as tokens of love and esteem from those present, who were Mrs. J. C. McMullan, H. C. Kerby, W. P. Anderson, B. F. Marchbanks, Allen Jackson, Geo. E. Meredith, R. H. Heigle, John S. Finch, George Freeman, J. R. Knott, L. E. Knott, J. C. Knott, Gaines, D. J. TELEPHOTO NEWS PICTURE SERVICE WILL BE STARTED

MOVE ANNOUNCED BY ASSOCIATED PRESS; PUBLISHERS OPEN ANPA MEET

NEW YORK, April 24.—(P)—Publishers of the nation's newspapers entered today the first of four days of sessions of the American Newspapers Publishers association.

Bearing reports of improved conditions throughout the country, the publishers called conferences on numerous questions, including that of the press in connection with the national recovery.

Their sessions followed the annual meeting of the Associated Press yesterday at which plans were announced for the inauguration of a tele-photographic service for the rapid transmission of news pictures.

"Service will start in the fall of 1934 or as soon thereafter as equipment is available," the announcement said.

"The quality of the transmitted photograph will be of the same standard as to deft detection, in many instances, from the original photograph itself—an achievement hitherto thought impossible."

The announcement was followed by a discussion by the members of the service, in which about 10,000 miles of leased wires will be used.

Three directors of the Associated Press were re-elected—Clark Howell of the Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution, J. R. Knowland of the Cleveland (Calif.) Tribune and Stuart H. Ferris of the Drian (Mich.) Telegram.

Two new directors, "Paul Bellamy of the Cleveland (O.) Plain Dealer, and John Cowles of the Des Moines (Ia.) Register, also were chosen.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull addressed the annual luncheon of the members. Frank B. Noyes, publisher of a newspaper page, and president of the Associated Press, presided at the business meetings.

Details New Service Outlined by Director

NEW YORK, April 24.—(P)—Operation of the revolutionary tele-photographic service, which the Associated Press will give its members was explained today by N. A. Huse, executive editor of the Des Moines (Ia.) Register, at this week's session.

"A positive photo print will be wrapped around a cylinder which may be 11 by 17 inches in size, or half the size of a newspaper page," said Huse. "The motor starts. It travels horizontally at the rate of one inch a minute. Thus, this picture, if it is the maximum size of 11 by 17 inches, will be sent in 17 minutes."

"A light which falls on the surface of the print at an angle of 45 degrees will allow the reflection of the print's lights and shadows through a light valve which opens and shuts at the rate of 1200 times a second. This light valve is an innovation in tele-photography."

Use Light Valve.

"This reflection falls upon a photo-electric cell whose impulses are transmitted over the wires simultaneously to all receiving points."

"Photoless impulses strike another photo-electric cell of the receiving machine. This cell's impulses in turn pass through a light valve to a sensitized photographic film. This film is encased in a cylindrical light-proof holder, wrapped around a cylinder identical in size with the sending cylinder. It is propelled by a motor synchronized to the one-millionth of a second with the sending motion. This synchronization is one of the keys to the success of the apparatus."

"In the case of a picture 8 by 10 inches in size, the reception is completed at the end of one minute. The film is then taken off the machine and developed like any negative. Any number of prints may be made.

"Both the sending and receiving machines operate in full daylight. When the wire is not being used to transmit pictures, it will broadcast into every telephotographic bureau in the United States the human voice, thus permitting instantaneous co-ordination of the service.

"The equipment requires a room

TAKES THIRTY-SIX HOURS FOR GREAT UNITED STATES FLEET TO PASS THROUGH PANAMA CANAL

By DOROTHY MELENDEZ Associated Press Foreign Staff COLON, C. Z., April 25.—(P)—The last of 111 United States fighting ships moved through the Panama Canal today, completing the first maneuvers of the kind in history.

It was some 36 hours after the start of the movement of the fleet from the Pacific to the Atlantic when the final vessel entered the canal. Commander-in-Chief David F. Sellers had hoped to complete the transit in 24 hours.

Twenty-four cities already have contracted for the service, involving wire mileage of some 10,000 miles and covering all portions of the United States, including the southern tip at Miami for picking up important news pictures from Cuba, the West Indies and Central and South America.

"In the 24 cities, 35 Associated Press members already have subscribed to the service."

Radical Forward Step.

"It represents a radical forward step compared with previous picture transmission methods. First, transmission of a picture may begin the instant a print is received in any bureau. Previously, one hour was required at the start to prepare a special transparency before sending."

"Second, the maximum size picture that could be sent was seven by five inches with the result that it was enlarged to a one-half page size. The new process will send a one-half page picture requiring no enlarging."

Third, transmission of news pictures will be substantially speedier than before.

"Fourth, as a result of the effect of the light valve, the 100 lines an inch on the print are so diffused and absorbed as to be almost imperceptible to the naked eye."

QUICK-THINKING WOMAN GIVES TELEPHONE ENGINEER FREEDOM TWO OF KIDNAPERS CAPTURED

FORT WORTH, April 25.—(P)—A 28-year-old telephone engineer owes his freedom today to a quick-thinking woman gasoline station operator.

With her husband, she rescued him from the hands of three kidnapers and aided in the capture of two of them. The third member of the kidnap gang remained at large.

The woman, Mrs. G. E. McKee, pulled Charles McKee, Jr., from the rumble seat of an automobile yesterday after the three men drove the car up to her filling station at Winfield, Tex. Kella said he had been stopped by the three men the night before in Fort Worth and had been forced to ride with them night in his own automobile.

When the trio drove up to the McKee gas station, Kella had been jammed into the rumble seat and the top closed on him. The men ordered gas and when the woman's husband, G. E. McKee, had filled the tank, they told him they couldn't pay for it. Mrs. McKee overheard the discussion about paying for the gas, seized her husband's pistol and came to the front of the station. The two men offered a shotgun and a spare tire in payment, but both were refused. Two of them started down the road with the spare tire to try to get money at another station, leaving the third man in the car.

About that time the McKee heard a tapping from the rumble seat and when Mrs. McKee opened it she found Kella gasping for breath.

"I've been kidnaped," he told her.

The man who had been left in the car started running down the road, but McKee, firing as he ran, quickly caught him. While his wife guarded the one prisoner, McKee found another of the men in a wood about a mile from the station. A posse searched for the third.

The two men held gave their names as Homer McCoy, 30, and Joe Burleson, both said by Detective Karl Howard to be ex-convicts. Asked why they abducted Kella, McCoy told detectives that "it was a sudden idea" and that they had no motive. Both admitted they were drunk.

Kella is traffic engineer for the Southwestern Bell Telephone company here.

Basic Principle of Abiding Success Laid Down By Jesus, In Face of Ambitious Mother—The Old Problem of Parents and Their Supreme Desire.

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Recently I met one of the world's most famous journalists. I had looked forward to the interview with eagerness, for I wanted to learn his views upon the present crisis in human society. But I found him obsessed by one major idea—how to provide security for his children in the uncertain future. He is wealthy, and has set up trust funds for them, and made investments and secured home sites in various parts of the world. Because he is scared about what is ahead of the race, he has devoted the best of his knowledge and wisdom to setting up safety for his family.

Of course, if what he fears should come to pass, none of his precautions will amount to anything. It seems not to have occurred to this brainy man that the only way to fulfill his hopes for his children is to train them to be self-reliant, free and helpful members of society. I could not discover that he had ever thought of preparing them for one of the ministering professions, such as medicine and nursing, which carry on regardless of political and social changes. My distinguished friend is just one of the ambitious, fond and futile parents, like the wife of Zebedee, who carried her vaulting plans for her sons to the ears of Jesus. She wanted the best places in the expected kingdom for her boys. Out of that incident grows this Lesson upon which the thoughts of millions will be centered.

The Ambitious of Parents. It did not occur to me to suggest this passage from Matthew's Gospel to the famous editor. Yet it is uncannily pertinent to the times. In it we find the foolish plans and pride of parents; the uncertainty of official place; and the profound principles of preeminence. We must deal charitably with the action of the mother of Zebedee's sons. She was expressing the deepest desire of motherhood—that the best the future holds might come to her children. Most parents are more concerned for the welfare of their families than for anything else in all the world. Fathers toil and economize, in order that their children may not have to do so. Before babies are out of the cradle, fathers and mothers are dreaming of their later years. Once I had to bear to a young father the news of his first-born baby's death. His first coherent word was, "And I had such plans for him!"

Strange, isn't it, that so much parental love should be so unwise? Zebedee's wife was almost typical in her lack of discernment. The other day I heard one of those little stories of real life that are forever popping up before our eyes. A New England business man has one son, whom he keeps in a subordinate place in his organization. He will not give him responsibility or authority, nor yet an adequate salary, for the son is a man in his thirties. Everything I hear will go to Charlie, I am building up the business just for him"—and leaving Charlie without any fitness to carry on! What a common tale! If only he would help the son to be efficient, he would be really assuring his future.

One of the Old Fashions. Salome, wife of Zebedee, was following one of the world's oldest fashions when she gave rein to her ambition for high position for her sons. Mothers in Washington and Ottawa and London and Paris and Nanking and Moscow are today shrewdly playing the same game. It is the way of the earth to seek selfishly. Little did Salome—or the millions of similar schemers—reckon with the effect upon her sons' associates of her inordinate desires. Still less did she truly estimate their capacity for the posts she claimed.

In miniature, the incident is a picture of the prevailing mode of life. "Get the most and best you can. Rise, and never mind the other man. Seek personal advantage first. Hold the highest possible place, enjoy the greatest possible power and ease. Look out for Number One." Such is the spirit of society; and it is also the spirit of the jungle.

But it is not the spirit of true success, nor the spirit of Jesus. Well might Jesus reply to the Zebedee family, "Ye know not what ye ask." Selfishness is always short-sighted. In the scramble for the prizes of life it often misses the real rewards. If you would get a glimpse of the unsatisfactoriness of what the world commonly calls "success," look at the tired, dissatisfied faces of the rich old men who are closing away the tedium of their closing years in the exclusive clubs. There is a way that seemeth right unto man, but the end thereof are the ways of death."

Success That Lasts. Tactless Salome precipitated a crisis in the group of Jesus' intimates. And her foolish ambition causes Jesus to lay down, with considered seriousness, the entire case of the philosophy of paganism versus the philosophy of the kingdom of God. Here we have, in a few pellucid passages, the whole revolutionary conception of life as taught by the Master. What He said to the disciples applies forever to all who would walk His way. Let me quote the words of Christ, which are the heart of this Lesson: "Jesus called them unto Him, and said, Ye know that the princes of the Gentiles exercise dominion over them, and they that are great exercise authority upon them. But it shall not be so among you; but whosoever will be great among you, let him be your minister; and whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant: Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give His life a ransom for many."

Those words should be drilled into the mind of them, stated in Latin, "non ministrari, sed ministrare," is the motto of Harvard and Wellesley Colleges. Great educators have perceived that the truth stated by Jesus is fundamental to life. He is greatest who serves the most.

The Most Potent Editor. This study of the Lesson opens with comment upon the unwisdom of a famous journalist. I close it with the citation of another editor, a newspaper editor that ever lived—Robert Raikes, of Gloucester, England, who, a century and a half ago began a ministry to outcast and needy children which developed into the modern Sunday School. His work after serving scores and scores of millions of boys and girls the world around, still continues in growing power. Alongside of his power, that wielded by the pens of Greenley, Dana, Bennett, Walter and Northcliffe was transitory and trifling. By the Jesus route of self-forgetting service this English editor became one of the great constructive figures of time. He is the leader of a mighty army of Sunday school teachers and workers whose motto is "Not to be ministered unto, but to minister."

In this time of transitoriness, wherein riches and power and position have in so many a fallen wings, it is all important to try to grasp the genius of Jesus, expressed in His life and in His words, that only service is true greatness. Life is largest, and lasts longest, when it is spent for others.

Urges Extension Demonstration Club Work in County

"There are 4,800 white farm families in Navarro county and only about 600 families were benefited by Home Demonstration work in 1933," said Miss Mary Bell Bonner, president of the Eureka Home Demonstration club to the members which met at the home of Mrs. I. R. Darwood April 20.

"The goal that the club has set to attain is to extend Home Demonstration work to 85 per cent of the families in the Eureka community," continued Miss Bonner.

Roll call was answered by six members who reported that they had helped sixteen people either by giving plants or seeds, assisting them with patterns or dresses or helping them with canning. Members who were present were: Miss Mary Bell Bonner, Mrs. Brice Bonner, Mrs. Lewis Bonner, Mrs. I. R. Darwood and Mrs. E. C. Watson.

Richland Home Demonstration Club In Regular Session

RICHLAND, April 25.—(Spl.)—The Home Demonstration club had its regular meeting with nine members present. Miss McNabb gave an interesting talk on our canning work for the year.

Also on last Tuesday a group of our club met with the Nebo club, and gave the tile demonstra-

CHEVROLET When you pay the price of a Knee-Action car, you naturally want genuine Knee-Action and all that goes with it. You want the new gliding ride at its best. You want the huskiest, sturdiest front-end you can buy. And, of course, you want shock-proof steering. You pay for them all—but you get them all, in the low-price field, only from Chevrolet. The reason is simple. Fully-enclosed Knee-Action wheels are costly to build—so costly that only Chevrolet, world's largest builder of cars, can afford to make the necessary huge investment in new machinery—and still keep prices among the lowest of the low. Only Chevrolet has the resources and the assured volume of sales that permit this extra production cost. Chevrolet does it because Chevrolet believes that, to KEEP ON SELLING THE MOST CARS, YOU MUST KEEP ON BUILDING THE BEST.

FUN AND EDUCATION

Adult education these days covers a wide range of subjects from serious studies to recreational enthusiasms and hobbies. In a city where community center activities are conducted on the theory that what people are interested in is what they should do rather than what some one else thinks they should do, there is every sort of group from one studying economics to one practicing fly-casting. All through the winter happy anglers have gathered on certain evenings in a recreation center basement to practice their art.

It must have been a very satisfying study for those who took it up. The fishermen could swap elegant yarns of adventures past and to come. Doubtless the cement floor became a rushing, foamy stream in their minds' eyes, and even the drab walls of that basement may have seemed to recede and change into northern woods.

A "class" of another sort is just about as interesting. It was suggested that women who drive automobiles might like to understand cars better. If enough women responded to make the course worth while—half a dozen would do—it was decided to put on such a class. A good mechanic consented to teach it, and immediately 50 or more women stepped forward for instruction and attended faithfully throughout the course.

Doubtless in every city which has gone in for organized recreation and adult education there have been just as interesting discoveries about people's interests and willingness to work hard at something out of their normal routine. Perhaps one of the benefits of the depression which we will note after it has passed will be the releasing of many grown-ups from inhibitions about amusements and personal enthusiasms.

MONEYLESS CAMPAIGN

A western state reports that both of its chief political parties are "broke." Both, therefore, are in more or less despair. They do not see how they can conduct a vigorous fight in the approaching primaries or in the November election. It is a pretty serious situation from a political standpoint.

There is a reassuring angle, however. That should be one state in which money will not decide the election. Not the amount of publicity material sent out, or the size of halls hired for meetings, or any other money-taking form of campaign will determine popular support. Candidates will have to fall back on their own qualifications and programs.

This is a plan not tried often enough in recent years. Huge campaign chests, not for bribes or crude buying votes, but for overwhelming floods of campaign literature and other forms of publicity, have been the rule lately. A campaign conducted simply and inexpensively on the merits of candidates and their party platforms, would be a novelty and a public benefit.

Marion, O., once famous as the home of a president, now has a more remarkable claim to fame. It has paid 99 per cent of its current taxes.

Everybody insists that business is rapidly improving, so we'll probably have to go through another of those booms again.

JUST FOLKS

A PIGEON TALKS BACK

I spread some crumbs upon the sill
And watched the pigeons eat their fill.
I wondered why they chose to stay
'Mid city buildings cold and gray
To live along a stone-paved street
When spring is here and grass is sweet.

"Pigeon," said I, "I'd like to know
Why roof and chimney hold you so
When field and stream, and waters clear
Are just a few short miles from here?
Why do you dwell with care and strife
When you might live a lovelier life?"

The pigeon spoke and startled me:
"I've often wondered that," said he,
"About you men. Why do you stay
Close to these buildings every day;
Slaves to one purpose, when you could Share the world's beauty if you would?"

"Not far away are field and stream,
Where you could rest yourself and dream,
Know birds and bees and blossomy bowers,
But here you spend your waking hours
And will until the day you die,
I wonder if you know just why."

AN INTELLIGENT RIVER

Uncle Sam has discovered that it isn't wise to boss a river too much. Especially a river like the Mississippi. Old Man River knows what he wants, and has a way of getting it or else making trouble for the fellow who interferes. He refuses to be regimented. But left to himself, with just a little supervision, he will do a lot of work, eliminating loops, strengthening his channel and making a more direct route to the Gulf.

Gen. Harley B. Ferguson, president of the Mississippi River Commission, with headquarters at Vicksburg, told about it in a recent report. The engineers used to take the attitude that when a river has made its bed, it must lie in it, unless man chose to change the bed. The Mississippi is temperamental about beds, especially in its lower reaches, where it winds about in great loops.

The engineers used to perform expensive operations, deciding arbitrarily where the river ought to go and then digging an artificial channel for it. The river often grudgingly using a man-made channel. After making several artificial cuts across loops, the engineers agreed to let the river make the next one for itself. It did a wonderful and inexpensive job.

As a result of eight cuts, 200 miles of river have been shortened to 70 miles. Much more will be gained hereafter. The policy from now on is, "When the river wants out, let it out."

As a matter of fact, people seldom gain much by fighting natural forces. It is more profitable to co-operate with them.

INTERNATIONAL COMMUTERS.

There is a tendency again, on the part of some officials and lawmakers at Washington, to harass Canadians living near the international border and crossing frequently for work or pleasure. The Canadian government at Ottawa is so concerned about the matter that it protests against pending legislation for that purpose.

It is best to be liberal in such matters. It is annoying in some localities to have Canadian citizens commuting across the border for jobs on our side, and it may look like good business to make it as hard as possible for them. But such efforts work both ways.

Altogether there are far more Americans wanting to enter Canada, for one purpose or another, than there are Canadians wanting to enter this country. As such Americans know only too well, whenever our government makes it unpleasant for Canadians, the Canadian government retaliates and makes it unpleasant for us, with more drastic customs inspection, tariff rates, etc. It is pleasant, and also more profitable, to be good neighbors.

It would be grand to have a public debate between Dr. Wirt and Prof. Tugwell.

TOURISTS COMING

The tourist tide is said to be changing. There will not be so many American tourists going abroad this year. On the other hand, there will probably be more foreign tourists coming here.

The chief reason is the American dollar. While we notice little or no difference in its purchasing power here at home, it will buy less abroad. The foreigner, turning his currency into dollars can buy more travel and comfort in America than for many years.

He will be welcome. And not merely for reasons of profit. We are less exclusive than we used to be, more interested in foreign nationalities, and somewhat improved in our handling of strangers, whether foreign or native. The new wave of alien travelers will probably find as much courtesy in this country as anywhere else in the world, and better service than in most countries. Personal service in America is becoming a fine art, and a profitable one.

THREE WELL-WISHERS

Boys and girls studying French will appreciate this little story about Calvin Coolidge, attributed to a Massachusetts lawyer who was a friend of his.

From a trip to France the lawyer had brought some pretty Christmas cards with the words, "Joyeux Noel, Heuresse Annee," which the office linguist says mean "Merry Christmas and Happy New Year." Arriving home just before Christmas, he sent one of the cards to the President, writing on it his own name and address. Shortly after the holidays the sender received from the White House a communication addressed to "Mr. Joyeux Noel, Mr. Heuresse Annee" and himself, expressing Mr. Coolidge's acknowledgements to all three.

Dr. Wirt wants us to celebrate April 19 hereafter as Dollar-Pegging Day. Most of us would rather celebrate some appropriate Dollar-Earning Day.

Dillinger Pals Believed Made Raid on Home

ST. PAUL, April 25.—(P)—Four armed men and two women raided a farm home near Elk River today, took a small amount of cash and then fled, causing a general alarm to Twin City police who were told that the gunmen had commandeered an automobile.

First reports led the authorities to believe the raiders might have been members of the John Dillinger gang who have been sought in this area since they shot their way through a large force of federal men who surrounded a Mercer, Wis., hideout Sunday night.

The St. Paul police broadcast advised all squads to be on the lookout for a mud-covered black sedan containing four or five men and two women. The broadcast stated, "the men are heavily armed—use extreme care."

MANY ENTRIES FOR FIRST CHEESE SHOW OF NAVARRO COUNTY

Thirty-two entries were received for the first annual Navarro County cheese show held in the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce Wednesday under the sponsorship of the Women's Home Demonstration club council. Attractive prizes were awarded the winners.

The entries were graded by J. L. Thomas, dairy expert for the Texas A. and M. College Extension service, with a running comment on the various qualities encountered in the offerings, reasons for the various flaws found, and methods of elimination.

Included in the list were American, process, pimiento, and cottage cheeses.

One feature of the exhibit was a presentation of pellagra, prevented by the Jones Ranch Home demonstration, which included both home-produced and bought foods such as home-cured meats, eggs, cheese, tomatoes, salmon, sardines, canned fruits and milk.

An exhibit of equipment for the making of American cheese was also presented.

Several Navarro county cheese entries will be forwarded to the district contest to be held at Denton in May.

TO MY BROTHER

I will not think of you in those dark days
When slow disease was wasting your stout frame—
The great arms lying helpless at your side,
The swollen tongue that could hardly speak my name.

But I will think of you in your full strength,
Your bronzed face set against the morning sun,
And oh, I will remember most of all
The way you sat a horse and shot a gun.

I think that we who were so long together
Have merely separated for a mile,
That I have only missed you in the roundup
Or lost you in the wood a little while.

Some day when I am waiting in the glade
You'll whistle for me as you used to do,
And I will put my gun upon my shoulder
And cross the ridge and meet again with you;

Or I shall rein my horse beside the trail
And wait the thud of hoofs and creak of leather,
And you will come riding along as if nothing had happened,
And side by side we will ride home together.

HAIL DOES SOME DAMAGE IN SECTOR WEST OF CORSICANA

Hail fell in some sections of Navarro county Tuesday afternoon, the heaviest being between Barry and Blooming Grove where considerable damage was done to gardens. The area, however, was small and the damage was confined to young gardens.

Light to heavy rains fell over the county. A heavy rain with some hail fell at Frost, but there was not enough hail to do much damage. In the eastern part of the county near Kerens the rain was heavy but no hail.

The rainfall in Corsicana was only 11 of an inch, and no hail fell here.

BROTHERHOOD DAY URGED BE OBSERVED SUNDAY, APRIL 29

The following taken from the April 19th issue of the American Israelite of Cincinnati, Ohio, was handed to the Sun by Sam D. Brooks, local merchant and leader in the Temple Beth-El congregation with the request that it be reproduced in these columns. The article was written by Rabbi Victor Emanuel Reichert:

The designation of Sunday, April 29th as "Brotherhood Day" comes at a time when the strengthening of the human ideals that unite us need desperately to be emphasized. The National Conference of Jews and Christians is sponsoring the nation-wide observance of this day. Men and women of all creeds and classes are invited to gather together and give thought to the hopes that bind them rather than to the hates that divide and separate them.

The National Conference, in preparing this program, is careful to make clear that Brotherhood Day "does not deal with doctrinal differences, it does not promote worship in common, and it does not seek to water down anyone's convictions." It suggests that each one of us make this pledge:

A Declaration of Brotherhood—God being my Father and all men being my brothers, I make this declaration:

1. I intend to do unto others, of whatever race or creed, as I would have them do unto me.

2. It is my purpose to respect the rights of human beings, and to judge each fellow-man on his individual merits alone.

3. I will oppose every organized effort to evoke the fear or hatred of any religious or racial group.

We need to emphasize this faith. For as individuals and nations, we have grown up in a society that has infected us with mutual distrust. Nationalism of the bitter type is only an extreme instance of what has happened to the world in its political organization. Love and mutual esteem are being replaced by hatred and angry suspicion. Instead of tearing ancient barriers down, we have been busy building bristling economic and military walls to separate one nation from another. What is the consequence of this? It is the ominous world-wide rattling of sabers, the clan-destine back-alley whisperings of religious slander and malice—what are these but the hateful ugly symptoms of mutual distrust?

Mankind faces a crucial and decisive alternative. Either we shall again march forward on the highway of international peace and good-will, toward a world where men have been painfully struggling these many centuries; or we shall be dragged mercilessly backward by our own primitive impulse to the jungle of prehistoric tribalisms where the law of the fittest prevails.

It is not alone the life of Israel that is threatened. The rate of humanity itself is imperiled. All that man and Jew hold sacred is at stake! The legacy of love, the dream of brotherhood, the goal of a common humanity—the noblest visions of the spiritual side of man are the ideals for which we must devotedly strive.

Not by wishing but only by willing better human relations can we bring it to pass. Only as we take realistically to heart the high-born affirmations of the religious traditions in which we stand can we bring nearer the precious hopes of human reconciliation. In a day when jungle passions are unleashed and threaten to destroy all that mankind has slowly achieved, the religionist of the world must stand sentry on the imperiled fortress of brotherhood and peace. Only as we bend our staunchest efforts to the daily tasks of mutual help and friendship; only as we carry into our common lives the sacred principles of justice and fraternity shall we make luminous the truth that all roads lead to God.

Let us commend the National Conference of Jews and Christians for dramatizing Sunday, April 29th as "Brotherhood Day." May its nation-wide observance be fruitful of great and lasting good!

Quality Canning Is Subject of Emhouse Demonstration Club

The Emhouse Home Demonstration club met in regular session at the school building April 24 to study the way to produce quality canned products.

"Test all canning equipment now, to see if it is in good condition, oil all moving parts, and above all, budget your time for this canning season," said Miss McNabb. "Test the rollers on your sealer with the wire gauges which come with it. If you do not have pantry shelves, by all means build some. Be sure to study and follow Miss Blair's directions for canning vegetables given in the canning bulletin from A. and M." Miss McNabb continued.

Two new members were added to the club. Refreshments of angel food cake and ice cream were served.

Richland Girls 4-H Club in Session On Tuesday, April 24th

The Richland Girls 4-H Club met April 24 at the Richland school house. Miss Ticoy Bartlett, a member of the club, made an interesting talk on the keeping of your hose. She says when you buy a pair of hose, buy two pair just in case so if two of the hose wear out, you will still have a good pair of hose. When you go to darn your hose, you should wash them first so they would not be starched out of shape. All the members were present except two. We had two new members, Ernestine Allen and Lorne Freud.

MILTON DENIES PARTICIPATION IN ROBBERY OR ESCAPE

DECLARES LAMONT LIED IN CONNECTION HIM WITH BARROW RAID EASTHAM

DALLAS, April 25.—(P)—Floyd Hamilton today denied there was any truth to statements attributed to others in which he was linked with the Grand Prairie bank robbery and the daring escape of his brother, Raymond Hamilton, and four other convicts from the Eastham state prison farm on Jan. 16.

"It's a lot of hokum," Floyd Hamilton said in jail here. "I'm not the kind that pleads guilty to something I didn't do."

At Crockett yesterday, Floyd Hamilton was charged with complicity in the murder of the wounding of Major Crowson, a guard, during the prison break. He also was accused of aiding a convict to escape. Previously he had been charged with having a part in the Grand Prairie bank robbery.

Clyde Barrow, gang leader with a dozen killings charged against him, was taken to the state prison farm on Sunday. Raymond Hamilton was assigned to the prison farm. Raymond Hamilton was taken to a place where two pistols—allegedly smuggled on the farm by Floyd Hamilton—were concealed. Then he and another convict ran to a car and escaped.

Officers say John Basden, 22-year-old Dallas truck driver, has confessed to participation in the March 19 Grand Prairie bank robbery. Raymond Hamilton and Raymond Hamilton are his confederates.

James Lamont, alias James Mullins, 45, reputedly an ex-Chicago gangster, has Sheriff R. A. Schmidt said, confessed to aiding in the prison delivery of Raymond Hamilton and four other convicts Jan. 16.

Lamont, who assertedly made his statement in the presence of Sheriff Schmidt and District Attorney Ben Greenwood of Palestine at Corsicana last Wednesday was quoted as saying he and Floyd Hamilton hid two pistols in an automobile inner tube under a bridge at the Eastham prison farm several days before the break and that on Sunday before the break, Floyd visited Raymond at the prison farm and told him of the hidden pistols and the morning on which the break was to be staged.

Knows Lamont, Basden.

"I just barely know Lamont," Floyd said. "His story connecting me with that prison break is an outright lie. I also know Basden. He might have robbed the bank, but I had nothing to do with it and will be able to prove it."

Officers are holding Lamont, who completed a two-year-term for burglary at Eastham prison farm a few days before Hamilton escaped, at an unnamed jail in Texas. His whereabouts were kept secret, officers said, to protect him against possible gang reprisals.

Large Portion of Lindbergh Kidnap Money Recovered

BOSTON, April 26.—(P)—The Boston Globe says that a large quantity of the money paid to the kidnappers of his 16-month-old child, who later was found dead, has been recovered in New England. The amount recovered was more than half of the $50,000 paid and was found in blocks of $4,000 and $5,000. The Globe says.

Lucille Hale, who underwent an operation recently for appendicitis at the P. and S. hospital, was taken home Thursday.

MONTHLY SESSION OF CITY C. E. UNION MARKED BY BANQUET AND PROGRAM STAGED BY VISITORS

Young people of the Central Presbyterian church, Waxahachie, had charge of the impressive program at the regular monthly meeting of the Corsicana City Union Christian Endeavor in the auditorium of the Third Avenue Presbyterian church Monday evening, following a banquet in their honor an hour before. Joe Copeland, president of the Waxahachie organization, had charge of the program and Miss Eleanor Patterson, formerly a member of the Corsicana Union made the principal talk.

Over 140 representatives from the Corsicana Central Presbyterian and First Presbyterian, Mexico; Central Presbyterian, Waxahachie; Tehuacana, Central Presbyterian and Methodist Protestant, Wortham, were present at the banquet. Dr. A. B. Horn was toastmaster.

After the invocation by Robert Gason, President Lewis Allen of the City Union led in a song, with Miss Mona Anderson at the piano, while the tempting banquet meal was being served. The menu consisted of creamed chicken, corn, English peas in cream, potatoes, nest of ice, cabbage slaw, Parker House rolls, pineapple custard and cookies.

Guests were welcomed and introduced. Following the dinner, Dr. Horn welcomed the guests, and President Allen introduced the program. Dr. Horn then presented Randolph Mitchell, who entertained the guests with two piano solos, and was forced to respond with two encore numbers. His first two numbers were "Waltz in a Flat Major," by Brana, and "The End of a Perfect Day," by Charlie Jacobs Bond. He responded to the hearty applause with "Texas Grand March," and by special request played "Randy Rhythm," which was composed in his honor by Mrs. Lynne Wortham.

Miss Patsy Curtis was next introduced by the toastmaster, and held the rapid attention of her guests with a well rendered humorous reading, "She Opens a Bank Account." So spontaneous was the applause, Miss Curtis gave another humorous reading, "So I Decided to Say to Him."

The ever popular baritone, Chris Roper, gave the next group of songs, with Miss Georgia Ruth Pollock as the accompanist. His first selection was "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," and his second solo was "A Thousand Goodnights." The vocalists popularity with the banqueters was evidenced by spirited applause after his last number, and he responded with a third popular selection, "Sweetheart Darling."

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Thomas Lenox, pastor of the First Christian church.

Before the regular City Union meeting was turned over to the Waxahachie visitors, Miss Margaret Roxburgh gave a brief report of the Waco District Christian Endeavor convention last week end in Austin. She said that Jack Dale of Dallas, who was taking the place of Harold Lovitt, state secretary, took charge, and discussed society problems and how to remedy them. The most common problem is getting new members and retaining old ones. Mr. Dale stated that either the society must not be organized or the members lack personal consecration.

Robert Gason was elected president of the district, and installed at one of the meetings. Miss Helene Marie Roxburgh of Corsicana was elected secretary.

At the group conferences, according to Miss Roxburgh, publicity was discussed by Glenn Fickel of Tehuacana. He advised every C. E. to see that all activities are written up in the paper with wide awake style. That there should have a monthly newspaper—four mimeographed sheets, including jokes, plans, social write-ups, business doing, individual societies and good talks or parts on programs, should be especially written up, was stressed. She said cartoons or comics would not be out of place.

A Saturday evening Rev. Thomas Lenox, Corsicana, gave the address on the subject, "Witnessing for Christ in Social Justice."

After Miss Roxburgh's report, President Lewis Allen turned the meeting over to Joe Copeland of Waxahachie, who led the devotion. The first minute was spent in meditation, which was broken by a soft violin solo by Miss Joe Frances Garvin, with Miss Glenda Mullendore as the accompanist. Copeland made a short talk, and the group sang "Stand Up for Jesus." The Waxahachie leader presented C. I. Mitchell, who sang "Hold Thou My Hand," with Miss Mullendore at the piano.

While Miss Garvin played "Living for Jesus," Copeland read the Scripture from Matthew 12:28, and followed this with a prayer.

Miss Patterson was presented and made the principal talk. She said that from reading the Scripture, one sees that the main points of interest will be "earnestness" and "trail blazing." As Jesus was teaching His disciples concerning their work, He pointed to them new trails that must necessarily be blazed to bring His kingdom to pass, and taught them many things pertaining to their own lives.

"Earnestness and Sincerity."

"There was no quality that he emphasized more than that of earnestness or sincerity," Miss Patterson went on. "Jesus realized that these qualities are necessary to our own lives—the virtues and characteristics that they must possess if they were to be successful pioneers. Jesus realized that this quality was so necessary to the character of a Christian pioneer, for it is the only thing that makes men press on when the way is rugged and difficulties crowd in."

"It is ever so easy for the so-called Pharisees to give up the fight when selfish gains are not realized, but the man that is filled with earnestness and a wholehearted zeal for the cause can see beyond his own selfish interests."

"Sincerity is the motivating force behind each act and true service without it compares to the gift without the giver is bare." The church pioneer or trail blazer must be earnest for his cause.

"After Jesus had prepared His disciples for their work His command was to go and preach concerning the Kingdom of God. It was a command of action to men of zeal and enthusiasm—it was a challenge to earnest Christian pioneers to blaze new trails that lead into a more abundant life. These few men began their work almost 1900 years ago, and to each generation has rung out that challenge to go to move out into things unknown, to go further than the preceding one. Each generation is able to go so far in clearing these rugged trails and then it must yield its unaccomplished work and unrealized ambitions to the new generation. The old age is ever pointing to youth to unblazed trails. Christ is ever challenging youth to go to enter these all untried paths and further clear the ways that lead into the Kingdom of God."

"To Serve Fellowman."

"But it was not enough for the disciples to be earnest and sincere in their purpose; it was not enough that they go out into these untried ways with their Gospel, but Jesus told them that 'as you go heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse the lepers, cast out demons and just so freely as you have received of the goodness of God, so give to those along the way.' This was His way of commanding them to serve their fellowman."

In closing, Miss Patterson said: "We cannot remain blind to the fact that there is a wilderness which lies between us and Christ's ambition for humanity. We cannot remain unaware of the opportunity that is ours. We must become conscious of the fact that Christ is calling us to be earnest Christian trail blazers to carry our own generation to its intended destination."

The last number on the program was a vocal solo, "Closer Still With Thee," by Walter Rolfe, by Miss Marian Arnold of Waxahachie, who Miss Macdore accompanied. The meeting adjourned with the Mizpah benediction.

Mystery Attack And Suicide In New York Home

ROME, N. Y., April 25.—(P)—Authorities were at a loss today to establish a motive for the brutal sashweight murder of the 19-year-old girl by her father, the probable fatal wounding of his wife and his subsequent suicide by hanging.

When Nicholas and Joseph Ross came home from work yesterday afternoon they found their mother, Mary Ross, 64, unconscious on the kitchen floor and their father, Joseph, 68, hanging in the hallway from a rope attached to the stair railing.

Soon after police arrived the body of Beatrice Ross was found in her bed upstairs. Both women apparently had been attacked while asleep. Both were in their night clothing and the mother apparently had fled to the kitchen in an attempt to escape.

The sashweight apparently used to patter the heads of the victims was found in the kitchen.

Mrs. Ross' condition is critical. She has a fracture at the base of the skull.

The two youths told police everything was all right when they left the house at 7 a. m. yesterday.

Fourth International Growing in U. S.

ARNE SWABECK AT FOURTH INTERNATIONAL HEADQUARTERS. MAX EASTMAN
While Leon Trotsky is seeking another refuge and turning his eyes towards the United States, following his ousting from France, a branch of his Fourth International, an organization for fomenting revolution against the capitalistic nations of the world, is flourishing in New York, under the guidance of Arne Swabeck, secretary of the Communist League of America. According to Max Eastman, well-known American socialist editor, similar branches have been organized throughout the country in key cities. The Fourth International differs from the Third, now in power in Soviet Russia, in that it is more extreme, in effect a Left wing movement, opposed to the regular Communist Party. Fourth Internationalists believe that Communism must fail unless the entire world takes part in the overthrow of capitalism.

Moon to be His Target

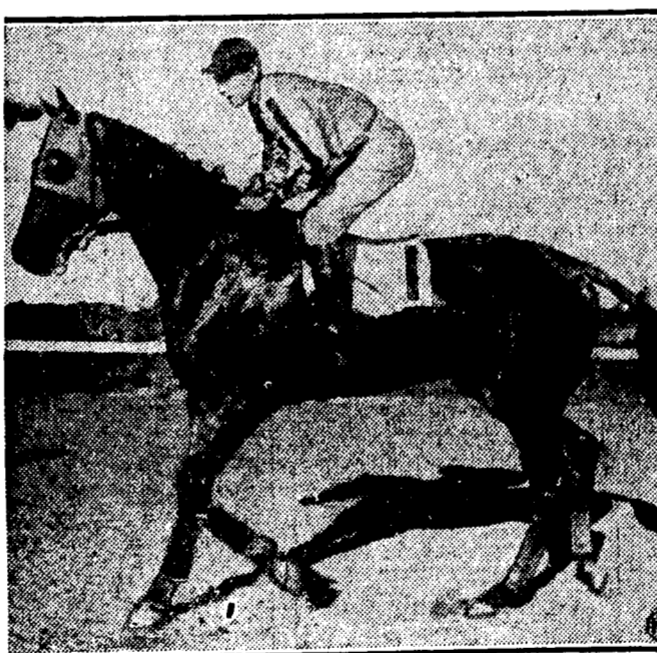

Ernest Loebell, engineer of the Cleveland (Ohio) Rocket Society, pictured with the completed model of the rocket ship which, he hopes, will reach the moon. In his right hand, Loebell holds the motor for the proposed space ship. Liquid oxygen and rectified gasoline will be the fuel used.

"Satellites" Smile After Quiz

Three of the Administration aides named by Dr. William A. Wirt as his informants in the alleged "brain trust red plot," smile broadly as they leave the House office building after an interview with Congressman Alfred Bulwinkle, chairman of the committee investigating Dr. Wirt's charges. Left to right, David Cushman Coyle, Mary Taylor and Alice Barrows.

Good "Hunch" Bet for Derby

Quoted at odds of thirty to one in the Winter books, "Soon Over" is a good long shot bet for the Kentucky Derby, to be run at Churchill Downs, May 5. The number on the blanket may carry significance to those of us who believe in signs.

Attack Fired Mob Spirit

Georgia Lindley and James L. O'Brien, students at Colorado College, Colorado Springs, Col., victims of an attack by two negroes while returning from a dance. O'Brien was badly beaten and Miss Lindley was beaten and her clothes torn off. Mob surrounded jail at Colorado Springs when it was reported a negro had been arrested.

"Dramatis Personae" in Rumanian Unrest

Following revelation of a plot to assassinate King Carol, and his red-haired friend, Mme. Magda Lupescu, Prince Michael and many government leaders, the Rumanian cabinet is reported to have informed the monarch that the only way to save the country from a Fascist or military dictatorship is to banish Mme. Lupescu and become reconciled with his divorced wife, ex-Queen Helene. It is believed the views of the cabinet are shared by Premier George Tatarescu, the most powerful man in the country, whose efforts were responsible for discovering and foiling the wholesale murder plot.

Modesty Beach Belles' Motto This Season

Unlike last year's comedy on Hollywood beaches when cops piled measuring tape on fair bathers to determine if swim costumes were inside the law, the Summer of 1934 may go down in history as the year when beach belles went conservative. New swim suits for midlady are modest in the extreme. While all display a generous expanse of back, most are designed to achieve a total eclipse of the front. Above, left, Muriel Evans shows blue knit baby pants with striped bandana bodice. In center, she poses in a heavy ribbed suit with draw-string belt. At right, Toby Wing displays her favorite—a dark top with white borders and white trunks.

War Spy Returns as Buddhist Abbot

The recent arrival at Victoria, B. C., Canada, of Tribitch Lincoln, former war spy, in the role of Buddhist monk, recalls the colorful career of the man who kept the secret service agents of half a dozen countries on the jump for many years during, and after, the World War. Lincoln, now known as Abbot Chao Kung, is a Hungarian-born Jew. He first came to Canada to work in a Presbyterian mission. Then he went to England and became an Anglican curate. Next he took a job as secretary to a British politician and became a Member of Parliament. During the World War Lincoln was revealed as a German spy. He escaped and was not caught until after the war. Since then he has been chased from almost every country in Europe, charged with fomenting revolt and with spying. The execution of his son, Ignatius, in England for murder sent Lincoln, a broken man, to seek oblivion in a Buddhist monastery in China.

Mother Comforts Boy Kidnaper

George Rogalski, 13, whose kidnap victim, Dorette Zeltlow, 2 1/2, died as the result of being kept in an abandoned ice house without food or clothing for three days, is shown with his mother in Chicago while State alienists considered his sanity. The boy believes he ought to get "about two years."

Insull Subterfuge

Waxing confidential while en route to the United States on the S.S. Edilona, Samuel Insull described to newspaper correspondents how he fooled Greek police. A little black hair dye and removal of his spectacles changed the erstwhile Chicago utilities czar from the man at top to the more youthful one below.

Marathon Winner

With plenty of steam still in reserve, Dave Komonen, of Toronto, Canada, crosses the finish line to win the Patriot's Day marathon at Boston. Komonen showed his heels to 196 of the best runners of the U. S. and Canada. John A. Kelley, of Medford, Mass., was second.

"Pair of Kings" Takes the Field

Before the New York Yankees and Philadelphia Athletics opened the local American League season at Shibe Park, Philadelphia, the customers were treated to the spectacle of Jimmie Foxx, A's ace slugger, and Babe Ruth, Yankees' "Sultan of Swat," wishing each other luck. But wary their fingers crossed?

HOME BEAUTY BATHS.

Baths That Beautify.

Miss Forbes, the economy expert, tells you how to give yourself a reducing bath, or a beautifying bath, at home equal to any that you would pay five dollars for in shops.

It is very nice indeed to be able to sit in one of those electric tubs and have an attendant watch you to see that you are perspiring to the proper amount, and not too much, and afterward to be rubbed down with epsom salts and then massaged. Do this every few days and of course you'll be slim, supple, and have a divine complexion. But suppose you can't afford it.

Well, you can do quite a lot in this line yourself. For instance, to get up the perspiration, first of all soak yourself in a tub of quite hot water, lying covered to your chin, with a pound of epsom salts in the water, or else a pound of bran-tied in a bag. After some minutes, ten or 15, perhaps when the pores are open and when already a lot of perspiring has occurred, get out and roll yourself in a large sheet of rubber, roll a blanket around this, and lie down. You should have a hot water bottle at your feet outside the blanket and one under your back, and you may need a second blanket tucked over you. This will cause profuse perspiration, which can go on for ten or more minutes.

Then a warm shower—and during it scrub yourself with a brush and some good soap. Then rub a few handfuls of epsom salts over the skin, and rinse this off with warm and cold water. Dry yourself, and you'll feel wonderful. You can even approximate the massage, if you have one of those little electric machines with balls or discs that revolve. Lie down, since you need the rest, and use this over your body. It stimulates the muscles and the nerves, it acts upon your very much like hand massage.

This whole treatment takes an hour, but what better use could you put an hour to than this? For it clears the skin, makes you feel rested and bright, and takes out uric acid poison from the body.

M.—There is no reason why you should feel worried about the contour of your bust; it will change as you are developing in other parts of your body. Apparently you are just another one of the young girls who develop faster in one part of the body than over the rest of it, and, given a little more time, there will be the usual rounding out all over. With the present fashion of wearing soft frills over the bodies, acting as a tight brassiere. These interfere with the circulation, making the bust flabby and spoiling the contour for all time.

Sally Use coconut oil, or lanoline, as a nourishing oil for massaging thin arm when trying to build them up. As you fill out all over your arms will share in the improvement, and your present diet will likely affect this for you.

FORMAL ACCEPTANCE COUNTY'S ACREAGE FIGURES RECEIVED

Formal acceptance of Navajo county's 1934 cotton acreage reduction contracts by the state board of review at College Station was contained in a letter received Tuesday morning by C. C. Morris, county agent.

Four or five days' work yet remain before the contracts are ready for forwarding to the Secretary of agriculture, but the entire 4,000 are expected to go to Washington by the latter part of this week, and speedy service on the checks to local producers is anticipated.

The principal portion of the work yet to be done is calculation and includes the answering of certain questions for federal information.

With the completion of the work on the contracts, Corns and Navajo county farmers will be entitled to more than $600,000 in cotton benefits prior to the harvesting season.

MARKET IRREGULAR AND LOWER DURING THURSDAY TRADING

HEAVINESS OF GRAINS AND SILVER HAD DEPRESSING EFFECT ON STOCKS

NEW YORK, April 26.—(AP)—Stocks, weighed after rather feeble efforts to rally in the early trading today, and turned decisively downward in the last hour, when persistent selling developed. The closing tone was heavy, with numerous issues falling to a couple of points. Transfers approximated 1,700,000 shares.

NEW YORK, April 26.—(AP)—Stock market sentiment was clouded by further heavy news of grains and silver and categories moved irregularly lower after holding fairly steady in the first hour or so.

Wheat dropped a cent or more a bushel, cotton was somewhat unsettled and silver futures were off around 1 cent an ounce at one time. Rubber came back moderately following early decline. Foreign exchanges were uneven. French francs rallied, but the British pound eased.

Shares of industrial rayon reacted around 5 points and DuPont, which had advanced a point and Southern Pacific sagged. American shipbuilding and N. Y. Shipbuilding were in demand on prospects of naval expansion. U. S. Smelting and Howe, which had advanced 2 points, and U. S. Steel, which had advanced 1 point, were easy. Losers of around a point or more included Chase, Pullman, Liggett and Myers B. Chrysler, Columbia Carbon, Bethlehem Steel, and Westinghouse. Liquid Carbonic was active at a point gain. American Telephone U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors and many others did little.

Curb irregular.

NEW YORK, April 26.—(AP)—Irregularly continued to prevail in the curb market today and volume held around its recent low levels.

A fair demand appeared for a number of specialties, bringing some price appreciation, but for the most part the market showed no special interest. Stocks of Williams, Pittsburgh Plate Glass and Singer Manufacturing rose a point or more.

Montgomery Ward "A" Newmont Mining Corp., Swift and company, Standard Oil of Indiana, Harnisch, Walker and Distillers-Seagrams were steady to firm. Utilities dragged through dull dealings, but metal issues had a better time. Hargreaves being off small fractions.

NEW INSTRUCTIONS AND REGULATIONS HOME OWNER LOANS

New instructions and regulations have been received by local representatives of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation according to W. M. Peck, local appraiser, and in the future all appraisals of loans must be accompanied by two suitable photographs of the property offered for security. The regulations state that these may be kodak pictures but they must reflect an intelligible view of the property and be taken from such a distance that an adequate idea of the buildings may be secured.

Should the application cover more than one building, the photographs of each building must be submitted, according to the regulations. The pictures must be smaller than 2-1/2 x 4-1/2 inches in size, and should not be materially larger than the those dimensions. Mr. Peck said.

Mr. Peck is the Navarro county appraiser and J. S. Callicott is the attorney for the Texas agency of the corporation established by the federal authorities.

A quick shooting banker, a swarm of vigilantes and a barrage of lead and garden tools sent them packing.

At 9:30 a. m., leaving one man at the wheel of their black coupe, the pair marched up to the cage and asked E. C. Weber, the bank president for a job.

"This is a stickup!"

"The hell it is!" retorted Weber, and reached for his shooting iron.

Two bullets came sailing at Weber from the sentry at the door.

The slugs merely cracked the bullet proof glass, surrounding the cage.

He reached for the opening and fired back three times. The robbers took to their heels, but the town vigilantes had heard the shouting and were already swarming from nearby shops.

A bullet dropped one robber as he raced for cover toward a lumber yard. William Luebe, dressing up his garden nearby, snatched his rifle and whacked the wounded bandit on his head to keep him down. The other two took to their car and raced westward out of town.

The wounded man, taken to a hospital at Wagoner, had his leg injury dressed, gave his name as Archie Rodas, and said he was thoroughly drunk.

Everyone agreed none of the bandits looked like the Dillinger gang.

MAN CHARGED IN BOSTON KIDNAPING IS UNDER ARREST

MAX CHIPMAN IS FOUND IN KANSAS CITY FOLLOWING LONG SEARCH BY POLICE

KANSAS CITY, April 26.—(AP)—Max Chipman, former New York taxi cab driver, today faced a trip to Boston for trial as the alleged "finger man" in the abduction of Herman P. Rustein, Oct. 1933.

Chipman, sought by Boston police since Rustein was accidentally discovered five days after he was kidnapped and held for $400,000 ransom, was surprised by officers at a night club here last night.

Max dropped a dice game he was playing and started to ease his way out. Detective Lieutenant George V. Augustus, a Detective Joseph Decker, both of Boston and Kansas City officers followed. When he reached the sidewalk, Lieutenant Augustus said:

"All right, Max."

Max took another step.

"I'll blow your head off," warned Decker.

"You got me," he said, "You got my fingerprints, haven't you?"

Searched for weapons, Max surrendered a .38 calibre revolver, its wooden grip contained two bullets.

Chipman had been living here several months, moving from Hotel to hotel, night by night, said Sheriff Thomas B. Nash, who notified Boston police.

Lieutenant Augustus said Chipman gave up taxi driving to become an alcohol runner. He fled New York, Augusta said, after a shooting at the Horseshoe bar, on West Forty-ninth street, in New York City.

Chipman was taken to a small cottage at Natick, Massachusetts, where he eventually was discovered by searching parties.

Three men, Max Schacter, William Williams, and Walter Addison, of Boston, were found with him. They admitted their guilt and are now serving prison sentences of from 17 to 25 years.

A fourth man, Morris Cohen, was arrested in a Boston rooming house on information given by the trio and now is serving a similar sentence.

OIL CONSERVATION LAWS BEING BETTER ENFORCED IS CLAIM

CARL ESTES REPORTS FOR EAST TEXAS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE COMMITTEE

TEXARKANA, April 24.—(AP)—Carl Estes speaking for the oil and gas committee of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, said that the Texas oil conservation laws have made marked progress with the last three weeks toward stamping out "oil" production and movement.

The Tyler publisher declared that since April 21, the Texas railroad commission has added 32 experienced men to the refinery and pipeline department. Previous to that date, the department had only eight men to check 60 refineries, 70 gathering systems, nine railway stations, and thirteen main lines, covering the entire oil field of Texas. With the addition of the 32 men, that department now has a force of 40 men.

Estes said Supervisor R. D. Parker is "rapidly" whittling his organization into shape to keep accurate check on all crude oil movements. Sixteen experienced field gaugers, six experienced inspectors, and six more petroleum engineers have been added to the commission's forces during the big drive to force the "hot oil" merchant out of the picture, Estes said.

In touching on the refinery situation, Estes said that during the month of March there was a total of 75 refineries in the East Texas field, and that 100 were operated during that month. Six being shut down during the entire month and seven of the total number were under construction.

Legal Action Taken

In connection with the legal enforcement, Estes said injunctions have been obtained against 28 refineries and that the commission has turned in contempt charges against 22 of the 28.

After a lengthy conference last night and this morning, the oil committee decided to postpone a meeting scheduled for this afternoon until May 8, at which time the committee will convene in Tyler.

"This action was taken in order that state authorities might have further time to bring their enforcement machinery to maximum strength and efficiency," Estes explained. "And at that time we should be in much better position to take stock and see exactly where we are. In the meantime, we shall continue to storm the strongholds of the 'hot oil' crowd from every possible angle."

Parker told the committee "we are in regard to overproduction in East Texas, just like the president does in regard to the depression and recovery there from. We feel that we are on our way and will soon have the East Texas field under control."

TWO REPUBLICAN MEMBERS BULWINKLE COMMITTEE MAY DISSENT

WASHINGTON, April 26.—(AP)—The Bulwinkle committee today adopted a report to the house holding unfounded the claims of Dr. William A. Wirt that administration "brain trust" were working for a revolution.

The vote was 3 to 2, the majority of democrats agreeing to the conclusion that Wirt, a Gary, Indiana, teacher, had not proved his contentions.

Both reports are to be submitted to the house next Wednesday, Chairman Bulwinkle (D-N.C.) said, adding that they would be made public before then.

It was understood, however, the majority opinion reviewed Wirt's assertions and told how they were based largely on conversation at a dinner in Virginia last September 1. Then, the majority report will point out, the other six guests at that dinner denied quotations attributed to them by Wirt.

REPRESENTATIVE OF GENERAL MOTORS IS CIVITANS SPEAKER

H. Hancock, Dallas, of the General Motors Acceptance Corporation, was the principal speaker at Thursday's luncheon meeting of the Civitan club following a number of song and dance numbers by pupils of the Rosa Sizemore school of dancing and exhibition, with Randolph Mitchell as master of ceremonies.

Festus A. Pierce and Russell A. Purifoy had charge of the program. Next week's program committee is named by Marvin Thomas, president, including Ed Wendorf and L. K. Carraway. Randolph Mitchell presented the following program, and accompanied each number at the piano: Song and tap, June Ethridge; Check-up, Strun; June Ethridge; Spanish Buck, Bettie Antonette Robinson; Eccentric Tap, Miss Mary Frances Harvin. Mr. Hancock was introduced and spoke upon the present business outlook. He said he believes we are having a definite upturn in business, and it is dependent upon the return of the purchasing power of the farmer. The speaker cited figures to show that the farmer in the past year or two has staged a marked recovery, and that the government will put much money in his hands by the end of this year.

Mr. Hancock pointed out that where one man is employed in an automobile factory building cars, over 18 local men make their livelihood by its upkeep. The speaker declared that people should use their originality and take advantage of the present upturn in business, and the depression will soon be over. He closed with the statement that he will all the bigger and better men as a result of having weathered the depression.

Ray Moss of Dallas was a visitor Thursday.

DILLINGER

tales of the hunt for the desperado.

Despite the criticism, federal men kept their own counsel and plugged away, confident they would maintain their reputation of "always getting their man."

Although the government technically wanted the "million dollar gangster" only for the comparatively minor crime of transporting a stolen automobile from one state to another, the last night of investigators that the downfall of Dillinger and his men may definitely clear up the $200,000 abduction of Edward G. Bremer, the St. Paul banker.

The federal operatives believe that Alvin Karpis of Chicago, Fred Barker and the latter's brother, Arthur (Doc) Barker, who have been identified through fingerprints in the Bremer "snatch" were with "Wooden Gun" Dillinger when they shot their way out of the government trap at the Hotel Bohemia resort. Homer Van Meter, John Hamilton, the first lieutenant of the Dillinger gang; Tom Carroll, and George (Baby Face) Nelson are reputed to have been the other marksmen with Dillinger when the federal raid was made.

St. Paul Health Officer Dressed Dillinger Wound

ST. PAUL, April 26.—(P)—With the suspension of St. Paul's city health officer today it became known that both John Dillinger and his first lieutenant, John Hamilton, were shot and wounded while raiding the First National Bank of Mason City, Iowa, last March 13.

The officer, Dr. N. G. Mortensen, was suspended by John McDonald, commissioner of public safety, after federal agents disclosed Dr. Mortensen had been forced to dress Dillinger and Hamilton suffered in the Mason City robbery.

Both Dillinger and Hamilton have been sought for various crimes but this was the first time they had been definitely connected with the Mason City holdup which netted seven machine gun bandits $22,844 and resulted in the wounding of a bystander when the raiders sprayed the town's street with bullets in their getaway.

It was learned today that Dillinger and Hamilton suffered shoulder wounds during the Mason City raid.

Dr. Mortensen told authorities that a day after the robbery early on March 14, three men came to his home. He said one carried a machine gun and told him that they wanted him to dress wounds of two of the men had suffered.

Dr. Mortensen said that Dillinger and Hamilton had been treated for shoulder wounds. He said he changed the bandages and told the visitors to meet him at his office the next day. They did not do so. Dr. Mortensen told authorities he had planned to notify them when the outlaws came to his office.

Colonel Fulgencio Batista, head of the Cuban army, said at Havana the report of the attempt to arrest Machado was "great news."

"I am confident," he added, "that the spirit of justice among the American people will prevail and that the government at Washington will accede to a petition for Machado's extradition."

Machado is accused of responsibility for the deaths of 17 revolutionaries in Havana August 7, 1933, after a false report that he had resigned. Herrera is charged in the same connection.

JAPAN

the Nipponese dream of world supremacy beginning with the domination of Asia and the Pacific ocean.

The envoy scorned Tokyo's "good intention" in proclaiming Japan the guardian of the peace in East Asia and warning other powers not to threaten the maintenance of peace through activities in China.

Japanese Officials Apparently Worried

TOKYO, April 26.—(P)—American concern over Japan's declared intention to oppose accidental dealings with China which from Japan's own viewpoint "endanger the peace of Eastern Asia" found official expression today.

The United States attitude was carried to Foreign Minister Koki Hirota by the American ambassador, Joseph C. Grew.

Although the ambassador, according to the foreign office version of the interview, delivered no note and made no representations, merely requesting an authoritative version of Japan's restatement of policy toward China, the visit profoundly impressed Japanese officials.

Tokyo government leaders were impressed particularly because Grew's visit indicated Washington intends a further thorough study of the declaration, made public April 17, before deciding on its course.

Additional significance was attached to the call in high circles here because it followed close upon a visit made yesterday by Sir Francis Lindley, British ambassador.

Wide Speculation.

There was wide speculation in Tokyo on whether an Anglo-American understanding exists concerning Japan's intentions under her restated policy toward China, although dispatches from London said Great Britain had no intention of acting with any other powers in connection with the situation in the Far East.

Ambassador Grew asked whether the English translation of the April 17 declaration and restatement of policy as published in Tokyo was accurate.

Hirota countered that the declaration was not official and hence there was no authoritative translation, but later he promised to consider supplying an accurate version.

The interview lasted 15 minutes. Shortly before Grew called on the foreign minister, Chinese Minister Chiang Tso-Pin visited Hirota for a discussion of the policy.

Chinese Minister Warned.

According to a version of this meeting given by Rengo (Japan) news agency as having been obtained from Hirota, the foreign minister warned Chiang of the danger of China's purchasing arms from the occident, employing occidental military advisers and "contravening the spirit of co-operation in East Asia."

Hirota asserted Japan had not welcomed signs that China is preparing for some sort of crisis and recalled that Japan had suffered severely from Chinese boycotts.

Reiterating the main points set forth in the declaration of April 17, Hirota asserted that the Tokyo government desires that China consult Japan before accepting occidental assistance "which is likely to produce unfortunate results."

Then, softening the lecture, Hirota said Japan had no intention of violating principles of the "Open door" and hoped soon to open direct negotiations for settlement of pending Sino-Japanese questions.

President's Move Linked with Japan

WASHINGTON, April 26.—(P)—President Roosevelt's move to expand the navy was linked today with Japan's "Hands Off China" policy.

Although officials gave no basis whatsoever for the connection, administration aides were informed that in London and other world capitals two developments were mentioned in the same breath.

The state department, however, held to the strict silence it has maintained since the Japanese semi-official pronouncement was issued nine days ago. In this deliberate silence, the best informed observers found intimation that the United States plans no immediate diplomatic move in Far Eastern affairs.

In accordance with the plan to increase the navy to full treaty strength, the white house looked to the drafting of a $1,500,000,000 request to congress, a "carry-all" appropriation, which informed quarters said start construction within four months of 20 ships of war.

Recalling that President Roosevelt, in signing the Vinson Bill authorizing construction of 100 navy ships, said he still favored "limitation of naval armaments," the Washington Post added that:

"Observers saw in the change of policy a hint to Japan that two could play at the game of indirect statement."

There was complete lack of any authoritative hint that the United States planned to enter into formal diplomatic correspondence or conversations with Japan or any of the nine-power treaty nations concerning the Nipponese statement.

Nevertheless Alfred Sao Ke Sze, the Chinese minister, and Ambassadors Rosso of Italy, Sir Ronald Lindsay of Great Britain, and de La Boulaye of France, all have conferred within recent hours with either Secretary Hull or Undersecretary Phillips.

In most cases the Far East con- cededly was up for more or less

TAX BILL

merous victories across the adjustment table.

Liberal Publicity Clause.

Part of this arose from inclusion of the most liberal income tax publicity provision ever to escape conference shears. The LaFollette amendment, subjecting entire returns to public inspection was modified to make only part of the return public. But even this was more than the independents looked for.

Under the new provision, a taxpayer will be requested to file a separate statement with his return giving his name and address, total gross income, total deductions, net income, total credits against net income and tax payable.

It is made mandatory that this statement shall be made available for public examination under regulations prescribed by the treasury.

Should a taxpayer fail to file such a statement the treasury would do it for him, but would charge $5 for the work.

House Wins Points.

The house conferees won their principal victories on the income tax schedule. Their smaller surtaxes on the lower income brackets—4 to 19 per cent on net incomes from $4,000 to $32,000 in lieu of the senate's 5 to 21 per cent—were agreed to. The maximum surtax is 59 per cent compared with 55 in existing law.

The earned income credit provision was compromised, with the 10 per cent deduction from net income tax purposes being allowed on net incomes up to $14,000 instead of $20,000 provided by the senate and $8,000 by the house. The flat normal income tax of 4 per cent was not in controversy.

The senate estate taxes, ranging from one per cent on net estates of $20,000 to 60 per cent on those above $10,000,000 were accepted. The house group, however, won restoration of the existing $50,000 gross estate exemption as against the senate's $40,000.

The senate's provision abolishing the privilege of corporations to file consolidated returns was retained with a modification to permit railroads to continue to file single returns.

Informal talk.

Similarly there was no doubt that President Roosevelt's desire for a large fund into which to dip at will to strengthen the navy had caught the interests of international circles.

Death Sentence For Four Arabs Death American

BAGHDAD, Iraq, April 24.—(P)—Four Arabs today were sentenced to death for the murder of Ray Fischer, 23, University of Cincinnati graduate and the son of Charles Fischer of Hialeah, Fla.

Young Fischer and a companion, Rudolph May, a newspaperman of Duesseldorf, Germany, were shot and killed by Arabs 100 miles south of Baghdad March 5.

At the time the two were on a trip around the world. They were trying to reach Indiana by way of Iraq, paddling a collapsible canoe. Fischer was shot through the head and died instantly. May was shot in the abdomen and, before he died, told authorities that the Arabs approached them and asked for matches as they were tying their canoe to the river bank. The Arabs fired without warning. Fischer's body was found by police in an improvised grave here. An investigation, arrest, and today's conviction followed.
